2023-24 GAME NOTES

HOT TAKES:

- The HEAT are a perfect 11-0 this season when Duncan Robinson scores at least 20 points.
- Miami is 13-1 when holding opponents to under 100 points this season.
- Miami is allowing just 108.5 points per game this season, the fourth-least in the NBA, and have now held opponents to under their season scoring averages in 19-straight games, including 31 of 32 overall, doing so by an average of -11.8 points per game over that span.

BACK-TO-BACK: Tonight is the second of a road-home back-to-back after recording a, 117-111, double overtime win last night in Atlanta. This marks the HEAT's 13th and final back-to-back of the season. Miami is 8-5 on the first night of a back-to-back and 6-6 on the second night.

WINS: The HEAT recorded their 24th road win of the season last night in Atlanta, marking the seventh time in team history they have recorded at least 24 road wins, including just the second time in the last 10 seasons. Their 24 road wins are currently the second-most in the Eastern Conference and tie for the fifth-most in the NBA. Additionally, the HEAT has recorded 44 wins so far this season, and with three games remaining, Miami has matched their win total from last season where they finished as an eighth seed on their run to winning the Eastern Conference.

FROM THE LINE: The HEAT are shooting 81.7 percent from the foul line this season, the second-highest single season percentage in team history, only their 83.1 percent from last season is higher. Miami has shot at least 80 percent from the line 47 times this season, the fourth-most for a single-season in franchise history. Additionally, the HEAT has shot at least 85 percent from the stripe in 27 games, the third-most, and shot at least 90 percent on 14 occasions, tying the second-most. Below are the most times Miami has shot at least 80, 85 and 90 percent from the line this season.

COACH SPO: Erik Spoelstra has recorded 857 career wins (748 regular season & 109 postseason) with the HEAT, the fourth-most by a head coach with a single franchise in NBA history. Next on the list is Red Auerbach (Celtics) with 885, followed by Jerry Sloan (Jazz) and Gregg Popovich (Spurs). Additionally, Spoelstra has coached over 1,000 career regular season games, becoming just the third coach in NBA history to coach 1,000+ games with only one franchise for his entire career, joining Gregg Popovich (Spurs) and Al Attles (Warriors).

PATTY MAKES: Patty Mills made his HEAT debut on 3/8 at OKC, scoring 13 points, all off the bench, marking as the third-most points in a HEAT debut after the All-Star break by a reserve. Only Derek Anderson (14 points) on 3/4/06 and Jamal Mashburn (14 points) on 2/15/97 have more. Additionally, Mills has now made 1,235 career three-point field goals off the bench, tying the third-most off the bench by any player in NBA history. 18+: Five different HEAT players scored at least 18 points on 4/7 at IND, marking just the fourth time in team history at least five players have done so. Jimmy Butler (27), Tyler Herro (21), Bam Adebayo (20), Caleb Martin (20) and Nikola Jović (18) all accomplished the feat. Miami also did so earlier this season on 12/11 at CHA as well as 4/28/21 vs. SA and 3/22/96 at MIL.

1,000 POINTS: Jimmy Butler scored his 1,000th point of the season on 3/15 at DET, marking as his 10th-straight season reaching the milestone, including in each of his five seasons with the HEAT. He has become just the second player in team history to reach the 1,000-point mark in every season as a member of the HEAT (minimum five seasons), joining only Glen Rice who did so in all six of his seasons from 1989-1995. Butler's five consecutive seasons reaching 1,000 points now tie the third-longest overall streak in franchise history. Below are the longest such streaks.

TEAM EFFORT: Eight different HEAT players scored in double-figures in the, 110-96, win at LA on 1/3, including Tyler Herro (21), Jaime Jaquez Jr. (16), Bam Adebayo (15), Nikola Jović (15), Duncan Robinson (13), Kyle Lowry (10), Kevin Love (10) and Josh Richardson (10). It marked as the ninth time in team history at least eight different players scored in double-digits and the second time this season after also doing so on 11/22 at CLE, tying the most for a single season in franchise history (3/10/18 vs. WAS & 4/11/18 vs. TOR).

TRIPLE TRIO: Three different HEAT players each connected on at least five three-point field goals on 2/13 at MIL, including Duncan Robinson (six), Nikola Jović (five) and Kevin Love (five), becoming just the third trio in franchise history to each connect on at least five from downtown. Additionally, Duncan Robinson has been a part of all three instances with two of those now coming at Milwaukee. The previous two occurred on 3/2/22 at MIL (Tyler Herro-6, Duncan Robinson-5 & Gabe Vincent-5) and on 2/9/20 at POR (Duncan Robinson-6, Jae Crowder-5 & Goran Dragić-5).

ROOKIE OF THE MONTH: Jaime Jaquez Jr. earned NBA Eastern Conference Rookie of the Month for December, his second consecutive honor after also winning for the combined Oct/Nov. He is the fifth HEAT rookie to win the award, joining Caron Butler, Michael Beasley, Josh Richardson and Kendrick Nunn and the third to do so multiple times (Butler – 4 & Nunn – 3).

DUNCAN IN THE FOURTH: Duncan Robinson scored 21 points in the fourth quarter on 12/22 vs. ATL. According to the AP, Robinson has become just the fourth HEAT player to score at least 21 points in the fourth (since play-by-plays were kept in 1996), joining Dwyane Wade, Jimmy Butler and Kyle Lowry. It was the highest scoring fourth quarter of Robinson's career and tied for the most in any quarter (21 in second on 11/20/19 vs. CLE).

5+ FROM THREE: Duncan Robinson connected on at least five three-point field goals in three-straight games from 2/13 – 2/23, tying the second-longest streak in franchise history. Below are the longest streaks of at least five made treys in team history.

ERIK SPOELSTRA (Portland)

Regular Season Coaching Record: 748-526, currently in 16th Season

Postseason Coaching Record: 109-75, 12 postseason appearances

Erik Spoelstra is in his 16th season as head coach of the HEAT and his 29th as a member of the organization. He was elevated to his current position on April 28, 2008. Spoelstra has rewarded the faith that HEAT President Pat Riley showed in him by garnering 12 postseason appearances, nine division titles, six conference championships and guiding the franchise to back-to-back NBA titles in 2012 and 2013. Recognized as one of the game's best coaches, Spoelstra was selected as one of the NBA's 15 Greatest Coaches in NBA History and has earned Coach of the Month honors 10 times, tying the sixth-most in NBA history.

In his previous 15 seasons at the helm, Spoelstra has made his mark on the HEAT record book as the winningest coach in franchise history. Entering this season, he holds team records in wins, winning percentage and games coached. He has also been honored as the NBA's Eastern Conference Coach of the Month a franchise-record nine times. His 12 postseason appearances in his previous 15 seasons tie the second-most over that span in the NBA as Spoelstra has never missed the playoffs in consecutive seasons since becoming head coach.

When Spoelstra first took over the head coaching duties in 2008, he was given the task of improving a young team that had been ravaged by injuries the previous season and had won just 15 games. He then recorded 43 wins in his first season, the most by a first year HEAT coach in team history, while on his way to a postseason berth. Miami became just the second team in NBA history to make the playoffs after winning 15-or-fewer games the previous season. The only other team to do so was the 1968-69 San Diego Rockets, in which HEAT President Pat Riley was a member of.

From 2010-14, Spoelstra took one of the most scrutinized teams and guided them to consecutive NBA Championships, four-straight Conference Championships and four consecutive NBA Finals appearances, becoming just the third franchise in NBA history to make four consecutive NBA Finals appearances, joining the Celtics and Lakers. It also made them just one of 10 franchises in the four major North American sports leagues to make four consecutive trips to the league championship. Individually, Spoelstra became just the fourth head coach in NBA history to lead his team to four-straight Finals appearances joining Red Auerbach, K.C. Jones and Pat Riley. Spoelstra also joined a very elite fraternity when he led the HEAT to a seven-game series win over the San Antonio Spurs in the 2013 NBA Finals. Upon capturing the 2013 NBA Championship he became one of just 13 head coaches in NBA history to have won multiple championships and only the eighth to win a championship in consecutive seasons.

The 2012 championship culminated a compressed 2011-12 season in which Miami went 46-20 and captured its second consecutive Southeast Division title. The regular season was highlighted by a nine-game win streak (Feb. 10-Mar. 1) with each victory a double-digit win. During that streak the HEAT became the first team to win road games on three consecutive nights (Feb. 12-14) since December of 1979 and the first to win each of those contests by double-digits since the 1970-71 season.

Before taking over as the sixth head coach in HEAT history, Spoelstra had served Miami in a number of roles in his first 13 years. He was originally hired as video coordinator and over the years was promoted to assistant coach/video coordinator, assistant coach/advance scout and assistant coach/director of scouting, a title he held during Miami's 2006 NBA Championship, before ascending to head coach. He made a name for himself around the league with his game preparation and superb attention to detail. In his seven seasons as the HEAT's assistant coach/director of scouting, he had the primary role of developing game plans for upcoming opponents. To that end, he coordinated the video staff and advance scouts while overseeing the development of scouting reports and videos.

In 1992, he graduated from the University of Portland with a degree in communications. While attending Portland, Spoelstra was the starting point guard for four years and was named the West Coast Conference Freshman of the Year in 1989. Upon graduating he spent two years as a player/coach for Tus Herten, a team in the professional sports league of Germany.

He has returned to his native Philippines to host clinics and promote education, health and wellness to thousands of at-risk youth through grassroots programs and events. The 9-day program in Manila in the summer of 2011 was the largest NBA FIT event ever hosted in Southeast Asia under the NBA Cares umbrella. In the summer of 2012, Coach Spoelstra expanded his reach into other Southeast Asia nations by conducting coaches clinics and other FIT activities in Singapore.

Raised in Portland, OR, Spoelstra, who was inducted into the Jesuit High School Athletic Hall of Fame in September 2009, is the first Asian/Filipino-American head coach in any of the major North American sports leagues. Spoelstra is the son of Jon Spoelstra, a long-time NBA executive who has guided the Portland Trail Blazers, Denver Nuggets, Buffalo Braves and New Jersey Nets. His grandfather, Watson, was a Detroit Tigers beat writer for many years. In his free time, Spoelstra enjoys spending time with his sons Santiago and Dante and daughter, Ruby, and their dog Rosie.
